BEAUTY IN BROKENNESS®

is our faith-based experiential mosaic process that leads people through an encounter with the beauty that can come from brokenness.

What happens in a Mosaic workshop?

In a 2-hour workshop, you will create and grout a mosaic heart while hearing life analogies. At the end, you select a packaged heart to take for yourself or to share with someone who needs it.

Who can come?

Anyone (12 & up) is welcome to gather around our table for mosaic making and discussion. Grab your spouse, family, friends, book club, bible study, co-workers, support group, and more to join in.

No creative experience or current struggles necessary!

In-house workshops can accommodate up to 12 people. We are available off-site for special events, larger groups, churches, schools, or retreats.

What people are saying

"I brought our entire family without knowing what to expect, yet we needed something to bring us back together. This was one of the coolest things we have done. The way you share through art is exceptional. I will use what was learned as reminders whenever I see broken things." —AM, participant

"The workshop is a perfect addition to our marriage ministry program. We all feel such peace and love during this workshop and it deepens our understanding that Jesus heals our broken hearts and makes us stronger through our trials." —LAS, Ministry Co-Founder

"Your soft-spoken tone as we went through the booklet had me hanging on each word with such peace in my heart. I learned so much more than just being able to put broken pieces together to form a heart." —ST, participant
